THE SUPERIOR'S LETTER.

Brotherhood Headquarters,
Fitzroy, N.6.

September, 1938.

Dear Friends,

You will be surprised at the advent of the Notes at this early date. You will be surprised, too, at their smallness. They come out now in order that you may know details of two important events in the near future. They are smaller than is the case as a rule because it is not so long since the last issue appeared. I would have our new friends know that it is our custom to give more details of our work than we are doing in this issue. It is our intention to bring out the next issue in December, instead of in January, as we do as a rule.

Before I write of coming events, I must try and express my thanks for the wonderful and cheering response made to my appeal for £500 in connection with our £4000 appeal for improvements to our Fitzroy property. As you will see elsewhere, I am already near my objective. Friends have not only been good in sending money, but I have received many most encouraging letters. I fear that I have only been able to answer these letters in a very few words, as my correspondence has been specially heavy of late. It is indeed good to know that you think that we are doing a work that is of real value. I feel that our organisation should be known as "B.S.L. and Friends," for there would be no B.S.L. were there no friends.

Those responsible for the shop which was opened for eight days in Gertrude Street, Fitzroy, are very grateful to all who sent in articles for sale. The venture brought in £60, which I think was remarkably good. The gratitude of the people who were able to buy warm and useful clothes at a very low price made the workers feel that their work was more than worthwhile. I used to feel a little guilty when I noticed the tired faces at the end of each day of those who carried on the shop. Theirs most certainly was a strenuous job. In spite, though, of the strenuousness of the job, Miss Calvert and her associates have decided to carry on with the good work. They are taking over a shop next to our Headquarters, and which is owned by us. It is to be opened on Thursday, September 22nd, for two days, and will open for the same period each month. Once again the success of the venture will depend on our friends. I know that you will not forget us, and that you will let us have anything that you can spare for sale in the shop. We have hit upon a plan which is of great help to us financially, and which is of great help to the poor of the district. I think you will agree with me when I say that the shop is a far better idea than a bazaar or market fair. The shop committee have asked me to say that there was a great demand for children's clothes. It may be that some of our friends could make such articles.

The South Yarra Auxiliary are about to make their fourth big annual effort on our behalf. They are organising the play "Libel!" in the Princess Theatre on Saturday, September 17th. It is being presented by Mr. Terence Crisp, and played by the Teachers' Training College Dramatic Club. Tickets, which may be reserved at Glen's, from September 12th, are to be 6/-, 4/-, and 2/-. Those who have attended the plays organised by the South Yarra Auxiliary in past years can be assured of as enjoyable an evening on September 17th as on previous occasions. Some of us deplore the fact that so few good plays are staged nowadays. We are assured that "Libel!" is a really good play, and well worth seeing—and in seeing it and in enjoying yourself you will be helping the B.S.L. Should there be any difficulty in regard to tickets, please communicate with the ticket secretary, Miss M. Curtis. 361 Glenferrie Road, Malvern. Tel. U 9866.

The next important event about which I wish to refer is the Garden Party in the Slums, for which invitations are being sent to all Victorian friends. It will be a great pleasure as well as a great honour to have Lady Huntingfield with us, for it was she who opened our first little hostel nearly five years ago. Although we are sending only one invitation with the Notes, we hope that our friends will bring their friends with them. We would ask, though, that in answering the invitation the number that are expected to attend should be stated. Might I ask that you answer the invitation as soon as possible. This is important from the catering point of view. We are very grateful to Mrs. Ernest Poolman, Lady Hyde and those associated with them in the Reception Committee.

11 The object of the Garden Party is of a two-fold nature. We want it to be a happy social gathering of all our friends, and those interested in our work. It is not intended to be a money raising effort, although an opportunity will be given to those who so desire to help towards the defraying of the expenses in connection with the function. The second object of the gathering is to enable as many people as possible to see something of our particular slum corner, and to see our buildings as they are at present, and to see what we hope to do if the public appeal, which we intend to launch early next year, is successful. I know that you will be with us on this very important occasion if it is at all possible.

With our thanks, and with all good wishes,

I am, yours very sincerely,

G. KENNEDY TUCKER.

P.S.—We have found it impossible to acknowledge all the gifts that came in for the shop, as they came through so many channels, and some had not the names of the senders attached.

View of the Church's Role

THE NEED FOR A NEW ORDER.

Appeal by the Rev. G. Kennedy Tucker.

Members of the Sydney division of the Legion of Christian Youth were privileged on Monday evening, July 18, to sit for a while at the feet of Rev. G. Kennedy Tucker, Superior of the Brotherhood of St. Laurence, Melbourne, and to learn from him something of the work of human reclamation and rehabilitation on which the Brotherhood is engaged.

Working in Fitzroy in shocking slum surroundings, Father Tucker realised the futility of "ringing the church bells and asking people to come to church." After all, Jesus didn't begin by preaching. He fed the hungry, and when folk were sorrowful He cheered them: that is the centre of the Gospel message. And Father Tucker discovered that as soon as one begins to work and practise along our Lord's method then the necessary help is forthcoming.

The war produced some fearful tragedies, "but," said Father Tucker, "there are worse tragedies in these cities of ours than anything I saw during the war. When you have to live amongst these people and you see boys being absolutely ruined, you realise that here is casualty of the soul—casualty of the whole personality. We are killing the divine spark by allowing people to live in such vicious surroundings. It is our job to get that on the conscience of the community."

The pious platitudes with which we are met—that slum-minded people cannot be changed, that they enjoy living amid sordid surroundings and so on ad infinitum, have been proved to be lies. Of course, we have to be patient with people who have enjoyed little of life's amenities, who have had few advantages; it is necessary to place an ideal before them and then build up that ideal.

There is so much to be done, the work is so tremendous that sometimes one wondered if it was all worth while, but the clarion call was for a new order, a certain number of people who will come away from the selfish competition of the ordinary occupations of life, give up their ambitions for success in life, and put all their resources into this greatest of all work. The Church was not founded by people doing spare-time jobs. A certain number were called to give their all. It is not that the work of those who spend their leisure in service to their brethren is deprecated, but some are called to make greater sacrifices, to give up all chances of success as the world counts success. That is the way in which the Church was founded.

Speaking particularly to Legionnaires, Father Tucker said that the Church is in the position she is to-day because she is not doing the work of her Lord. "In spite of discouragements," he said, "go on with that work which you know in your hearts to be right. Be patient. The world is terrified, looking for something which it can grasp. We have that something that the world wants. We can, and we must, go forward."—"Australian Christian World."

BROTHERHOOD NOTES.

It was a great pleasure to the Superior to meet our Sydney friends during his visit to that city in July. Many of these good people have been supporting us since we came into being more than eight years ago. We are very grateful to Mrs. Selwyn King for arranging for the meeting of friends, and to Dr. H. S. Stacy for taking the chair and for his kind remarks.

Thanks to the hard work of Miss Joan Bagot, and to those who send her stamps, the stamp fund continues to grow. It is now about £35. We hope to be able to devote the money to some special object in connection with our work. Will friends please note that stamps may be sent through the post as merchandise. Miss Bagot's address is 46 Malvern Road, Malvern, S.E.3. Stamps may be left at any of the three Brotherhood centres.

*Miss
Bagot*

We are very grateful to those who send us food-stuffs from the country. Some time ago we received four bags of wheat from Mr. Norman McAlister, which was much appreciated by the settlers at Carum Downs. We sell such gifts to the people at a low price, which means that both they and the Brotherhood benefit. Thanks to the kindness of friends, the brothers do not often have to resort to tinned jams.

If there should be any mistakes under the heading of "Acknowledgments," may we be excused. We do our best in this respect, but we have, of course, no office staff, and we find it very difficult to record all that comes in from so many sources.

In regard to articles for sale at the shop, these may be left at any of the Brotherhood centres, or consigned to Flinders Street railway station (carried free). Those who wish goods to be called for should ring U 3053.

A long felt need is about to be supplied through the generosity of Miss A. Cullen, who has given £70 for the installation of a hot water system for the Houses of S. Francis. We are most grateful for this very generous gift, the news of which comes to hand as we go to press.

Miss A Cullen

INTERCESSIONS.

1. That the spirit of brotherhood and goodwill might take the place of fear and distrust amongst the nations of the world.

2. That the Church may be alive to her opportunities during these days of crisis.

3. That the Brotherhood may be worthy of the self-sacrificing efforts of its friends.

4. That more young men may offer themselves for service with the Brotherhood.

5. For the three Brotherhood students who are about to sit for their final examinations, and for the student at the University.

(If all goes well these four should be ready for deacons' orders next year).
